Diva Schumann-Heink Intensely Interested in Loving Phrases Her Husband Showered on Alleged Affinity.

RAPP AND MRS. DEAN SEEN HOLDING HANDS And Sitting in Each Other's Laps—Rapp Also Wore an Apron and Washed the Dishes for Mrs. Dean.

Chicago, June 6.—A letter purporting to have been written by Mrs. Catherine E. Dean, of New York, to Madame Schumann-Heink, threatened a divorce suit if the singer linked Mrs. Dean's name with that of William Rapp Jr., today was ordered as a condition of the trial of Madame Schumann-Heink's suit for divorce from Rapp.

Mrs. Dean was described in Madame Schumann-Heink's petition for divorce as "a blonde lady."

It was said to have inspired the spirit. Virtually the entire session was consumed in reading letters bearing on the case. With the exception of Mrs. Dean's letter, all were written by Rapp. They were filled with endearing terms and pet phrases, expressive of his affection for Mrs. Dean.

The defense in vain sought to stem the tide of epistles.

"I look up to you and worship you," said one of Rapp's again. "Please sign your name as you are, not Katie, or any other name. Nonnie is to be a secret and sacred."

"All my thoughts are of you; you are the goal, the line you wish to achieve that, you are the ideal race!" "Faithfully, your Billie."

Another letter revealed that in a telephone conversation with Mrs. Dean, Madame Schumann-Heink had made him aware that she was acquainted with his sister, Mrs. Dean. During this conversation, according to the letter, Madame Schumann-Heink said that she had said, "Billie," from the last season, and "did not care to sing much more."

Other letters indicated that the writer suspected that his mail was being intercepted, and warned Mrs. Dean to be careful.

Throughout the session Rapp stood intently at Madame Schumann-Heink, she seemed absorbed, and listened intently to the reading.

ORDER CAUSES NEW CRISIS AND MAY AGAIN INVOLVE THE UNITED STATES IN A CLASH WITH HUERTA.

PORT DECLARED OPEN BY THE UNITED STATES

Huerta's Gunboats Leave for Tampico and Are Trained by U. S. Warships Tacoma and Sacramento.

Mexico City, June 6.—The foreign office sent a note to the legation this afternoon notifying them that the port of Tampico had been blockaded by order of President Huerta. The United States government was also notified through the Spanish minister at Washington.

Caused a New Crisis.

Washington, June 6.—A new crisis in the Mexican situation developed late tonight when two Mexican federal gunboats closely trailed by two American war craft, the cruiser Tacoma and gunboat Sacramento, steamed from Puerto Mexico for Tampico to enforce a blockade of that port decreed by General Huerta.

No specific orders have been given, the American commanders merely having instructions to keep the Mexican boats under surveillance, but it is known that Admiral Baguer has been advised that the United States government regards Tampico as an open port and desires that there be no interference with commerce there.

Notice of General Huerta's decree was given formally to Secretary Bryan in the night by Senor Nino, the Spanish ambassador, who represents the Huerta government here. This is a drastic street pawn broker. Nathan Wright, who is the owner of the left turn.

It was the first time that the valuable piece of jewelry disappeared. The professor is charged with it. He paid it at Sinkovitz's shop for $40. The matter was then reported to the Atlanta police, who located Sinkovitz at Sinkovitz's shop. The owner was called to identify Sinkovitz then furnished the name of a woman who had pawned him his shop.

This Is the Bride's Month

"Something old, something new;
Something borrowed, something blue;
And a piece of silver in your shoe."

Since knights of old wooed ladies fair, tradition tells us that the wise bride has observed this mystic rule. It is her sentimental safeguard against the woes that otherwise beset the true daughter of Eve—a talisman that insures her safe transition to wedded land.

We know the resourceful bride will provide herself with the other articles mentioned in the couplet—we want to help her along the line of "something new."

We have helped many a bride to make this big event in her life a successful one—and right now, at a moment's notice, we are ready to furnish every article of apparel, every accessory needed to complete a trousseau—and from the simplest to the most elegant—also the trunk and bag for going away.

"It is the month of June,
The month of leaves and roses,"

And the woman who appreciates the true fineness of things will use this—

Jacqueminot Rose

Made from the distilled essence of newly-blown roses, and preserving their exquisite natural scent to a delightful degree. Extract, $2.50 ounce.

A Remarkable Special Offer on Sewing Machines for Monday

We are going to sell FIVE regular $66 central needle, "sit-straight," "Standard" Rotary Sewing Machines at $37.50.

THREE $40 ROTARY machines at $29.50.
(The $40 machine at $29.50 is not a central needle machine.)

An offer worthy of careful thought on your part.

With a ROTARY machine there is no lost force; every foot pressure counts for power, and in the time that other machines make four stitches the rotary kinds make seven. Add to this their many new devices for sewing better or more easily and their strong, light-running construction, and you see why so many women do their home sewing with their aid.

Our method of selling, from the factory to the customer, eliminating the middleman's profit, is the reason we can offer you, at $29.50, machines which sell in other retail channels at $40.00; and other values equally great.

If you are at all interested in a machine, we suggest your coming early Monday, to make sure of getting one of these at the special price.

SUITABLE COSTUMES

RESTAURANT DINNER

THE standing figure on the left wears a Dresden crepe of white and colored roses, elaborately shamed with Japanese blue, in bustle effect. The waist is bolero one, with long V of organdie net or shadow lace. Brilliant glass buttons placed close together fasten the waist in the back. The three ruffles are edged with narrow frills. The skirt is five inches from the floor, showing smartly cut pumps. The hat of tango yellow leghorn, is trimmed with cherries and black velvet ribbon.

The central figure wears the new velvet basque. It is close fitting, with high lace collar and soft chemisette of white. The skirt is of mahogany organdie, with three pleated flounces. The edge of each flounce has a rolled hem or binding. The corsage rose is a charming addition. It relieves the plain effect of the basque, which is called the Riviera basque. A hat designed to show the hair and ears, tilted smartly on one side, is trimmed with tiny flowers of various delicate shades.

The figure standing by the curtain wears another beruffled dress. This ruffling is of lace. Four flounces are placed at becoming intervals around the skirt, beginning about nine inches from the waist-line. The Riviera jacket is of the unique designs suitable for fancy silks, crepons and cottons. This jacket is of closely woven Japanese crepe. The chifon poplin, which is edged with rose quilling of fringed silk, is cut about fourteen inches deep. This is also of Japanese blue to match the jacket. The hat is a milan straw, trimmed with roses and wide ribbon.

BAPTISTS WILL HOLD MASS MEETING TODAY

A mass meeting of the Baptists of Atlanta, which will be an aftermath of the great religious campaign conducted recently in the Baptist churches of the city, will be held this afternoon at the Auditorium-Armory, beginning at 3 o'clock.

A chorus of nearly a thousand voices under the direction of Chorister Beasman, of the Baptist Tabernacle, will furnish the music. Dr. E. A. Kraft, the city organist, will preside at the great organ, which will accompany the chorus.

The services will be led by Dr. Weston Bruner, head of the evangelical department of the home mission board of the Southern Baptist convention. Dr. Lincoln McConnell, pastor of the Tabernacle, will make the final evangelistic appeal of the campaign.

The churches, Sunday schools and other religious organizations connected with the Baptist churches of the city will attend the mass meeting in a body. Special cars have been chartered for the occasion by the outgoing churches, and it is expected that the Auditorium-Armory will be filled to its capacity.

Collier Storstad Which Sank Empress of Ireland

What will the government inquiry into the Empress of Ireland disaster in the St. Lawrence river show? Which vessel is responsible, the ill-fated Empress or the Norwegian Collier Storstad, which rammed and sank her? Captain H. G. Kendall, of the Empress, placed the blame on the Storstad while testifying at the coroner's inquest at Rimouski, where the rescued and the bodies recovered from the river were taken. Captain Thomas Anderson, of the Storstad, denies this and places the blame on the Empress. When the Storstad reached Montreal under her own steam, it was seen that her bow was badly crushed in, but far above the water line. She was low in the bow, her coal having been shifted to protect her. That the impact with the Empress of Ireland had been great was evident by the way the vessel's stem was twisted to port, the lower hole completely smashed, plates cracked, rivets twisted or missing, while the heavy anchor had evidently been driven back several feet into the bow. The Storstad was immediately seized for $5,000,000 damages on application of the Canadian Pacific railway, owner of the Empress of Ireland.

1. Storstad at Montreal after tragedy, showing crushed bow. Captain Anderson, of the Storstad.

Going Some.

Pretty soon some one is going to demand that the national commission investigate the Cincinnati team. The way the Reds are running is getting to be an open scandal, and there is more than a suspicion that Herzog has been using dope right and left. First thing you know those fans out there will be claiming the pennant.

ASK FOR MORE TIME TO MAKE UP BUDGET

Until Mayor Names Committee to Sell Property No Settlement Will Be Reached.

When the general council meets Monday, Councilman W. G. Humphrey, chairman of the finance committee, will ask for additional time for the committee to make up the June budget. Although no statement has been issued by the chairman of the committee or the members, it is understood that further effort will be made to adjust the differences until Mayor James G. Woodward appoints a committee of five to investigate the advisability of selling approximately $50,000 worth of city property.

At the last meeting of council a resolution was offered by Councilman Farlinger empowering the mayor to appoint the committee. Saturday afternoon Mayor Woodward stated that the resolution has not been submitted to him, but he indicated that he will approve it when it comes to him for confirmation.

Members Concerned.

Just what will be the attitude of the council regarding the delay over the June sheet is causing some members of the committee considerable concern.

The city clerk is plain that the sheet must be presented by the finance committee at the first meeting in May. In first accordance with the charter, the finance committee submitted its report last Monday, but because there were two reports—one by Chairman Humphrey and the other by Vice Chairman Kelley—no action was attempted until the committee's report was presented for study. And in order to live strictly to the charter, the provision for adjournment of the meeting for one week, it was necessary for council to take action on the sheet at Monday's meeting or adjourn the meeting to a further day, which cannot be later than Monday, which is the date for the regular meeting of council.

Swapping of Funds.

The contention among the members of the finance committee is $15,000 apportioned to the school fund in January for the widening and repaving of South Pryor street. The money, according to Chairman Humphrey, although apportioned, has not been spent. Chairman Humphrey wanted to take at least $15,000 from the Pryor street fund and give at least $15,000 for the normal school cause, which is a part of the reorganization plans of the school board for next year.

Alderman Kelley has fought the attempt in the finance committee, and is prepared to take the floor when council meets to protest his fund. He has amendments which propose taking funds from other funds of the city, and members of the various wards whose interest in the money will be hit do not look with favor on the plan.

If council will authorize the mayor to appoint a committee of five to make a list of property to be sold, and if the city marshal can raise $25,000 from the sale of the money can be sold in the June sheet, and all the appropriations made in January will remain intact.

The Train That's Going Home.

(From Judge.)

Maybe home ain't nothing but a room, eight by ten;

Nary picture on the wall; a silence when there ought to be the lip of baby lips

Maybe home ain't nothing more than that;

Ain't it good to hit the train that's going home?

Maybe the dog's gone a-roaming in the land;

Seen the cattle and the towering mountains stand

Against the blue; maybe seen the waters blend

With the crimson of the evening sky;

Ain't it good to hit the train that's going home?

Everything's so natch'ral there and true;

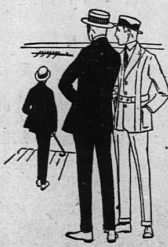

Seems like just the pavement say, "Howdy-do"

Maybe that there ain't no baby lips at play;

Maybe home ain't nothing but a room—but say,

Ain't it good to hit the train that's going home?

SURPRISE PLANNED FOR AD MEN'S MEET

Local Delegates Are Keeping Their Scheme a Secret, But Promise to Give Toronto a Sensation.

The Ad Men's convention in Toronto, Canada, June 21 to 24, is going to be a big thing. The convention promises to be the most successful in the history of the association and will only be eclipsed by the one which the Atlanta Ad Men are going to get for Atlanta in 1915.

The Atlanta Ad Men are planning to duplicate the success of the Boston convention two years ago, when they were the sensation of the meeting, and pulled off an old-fashioned watermelon cutting on Boston common.

Just what is to be done is more or less of a secret, which is being kept by the Atlanta Ad Men, but they are going to pull off another surprise.

Just now, however, they are making a collection of choice Georgia peaches. Enough cotton bolls for each visitor to the convention to have one of them shipped Saturday by freight to Toronto. Each cotton boll is packed in a neat cardboard box, which contains advertising matter descriptive of Atlanta, and which will be a real novelty in Toronto.

The committee on arrangements in Toronto has been advised of the fact that Atlanta is "coming strong," and is making preparations to "give 'em room."

There is nothing mean about Toronto, either, by the way, and they are preparing to spend a lot of money on the entertainment of the delegates.

They are going to have live bands at work all the time whenever possible, furnishing music for the occasion, and they have planned a water carnival in honor of the event.

One of the big steamers has been chartered for a moonlight picnic, to furnish a watermelon cutting, and a fireworks display, which will be on the program of the events of the year, will be pulled off.

CANADA OFFERS MARKET TO DIXIE MANUFACTURER

Many American manufacturers have taken advantage of the new territory Canada affords them, but few in the South. Many southern manufacturers have been slow to take advantage of the account of the distance from them, and the fact that they have not been getting information regarding industrial conditions, their thoughts have never crystallized into action.

Canada is an enormous market, which is rapidly expanding. It affords exceptional shipping facilities by rail and water. Electric power is very cheap, averaging from one-half cent to one cent per kilowatt hour. In most Canadian towns, labor troubles are practically nonexistent. It is naturally a haven for branch plants and factories. Best of all is the fact that due to the earnest competition of the different cities with each other, remarkably liberal inducements are offered in factory sites and other assistance.

The difficulty of obtaining information about this great territory, but longer agents, who have a cordial invitation to southern visitors to avail themselves of the service (which is free) can put their fingers on just the information they want. The result of co-operation of Canadian cities, who have greater in this manner the dissemination of practical information.

Any Canadian will make an earnest endeavor to give a manufacturer the information he wants; they all have the same object in view. The result of co-operation of Canadian cities, who have greater in this manner the dissemination of practical information.

JURY RECOMMENDS ABOLISHING OF COURT

America, Ga., June 6.—(Special.)—General public indorsement of various recommendations of the Sumter county grand jury, which met last night, are heard today. Besides recommending the abolishing of the grand jury, the jury recommended the abolishing of the city court.

The grand jury also recommended the establishment of a mounted police force for Sumter county for the better preservation of law and order. A bond issue of $100,000 for county road improvement is strongly urged.

Members Concerned.

Just what will be the attitude of the council regarding the delay over the June sheet is causing some members of the committee considerable concern.

The city clerk is plain that the sheet must be presented by the finance committee at the first meeting in May. In first accordance with the charter, the finance committee submitted its report last Monday, but because there were two reports—one by Chairman Humphrey and the other by Vice Chairman Kelley—no action was attempted until the committee's report was presented for study. And in order to live strictly to the charter, the provision for adjournment of the meeting for one week, it was necessary for council to take action on the sheet at Monday's meeting or adjourn the meeting to a further day, which cannot be later than Monday, which is the date for the regular meeting of council.

Swapping of Funds.

The contention among the members of the finance committee is $15,000 apportioned to the school fund in January for the widening and repaving of South Pryor street. The money, according to Chairman Humphrey, although apportioned, has not been spent. Police Chief Tells Conference of Mayors and Other Officials That Atlanta Is Now Clean City, Morally.

Chief of Police James L. Beavers, in an interesting letter to the secretary of the Mayor's Conference, which was held last week in Auburn, N. Y., gives an account of the history of his fight in closing the segregated vice district in Atlanta about twenty months ago. The letter was sent because the chief was not able to be present to deliver a speech upon the "closing of the Atlanta red-light district."

He begins with a brief review of the history of the efforts made to close Atlanta district before he became chief of police, and leads up to his first efforts to end his horrors.

Williams, of Bremen, is treasurer, and Hon. E. B. Russell, of Cedarhurst, secretary.

There have been enrolled this year 225 students at this school, and a general average made of 100 students. There were thirty-five Juniors who passed to the senior class of next year. The lower classes are still large.

at least some people would have you believe that it was impossible to do away with the district, and I think that sentiment was kept alive by men who got money from such places and people who cared nothing for the morals of the community. Public opinion is unquestionably the most powerful of influences.

It is mighty hard for any officer to enforce the law to the letter when public opinion is against him, but public opinion had changed to a great extent when we closed the district. The law that was passed by the people of this city was not a law to be broken. The suppression of the public brothel is not only to legislation, but to the public mind. The law is not a thing to be enforced, but a thing to be lived.

The Enforcement of the Law. The only way to handle such a case successfully is for the police department to enforce the law. The law is not a thing to be enforced, but a thing to be lived.

Streetwalkers and Houses. "We are not bothered with the streetwalkers and houses as much as we were before the district was closed for they all know the police are watching them and we have closed them down. I have plain clothes men on the streets and they are watching them. If I have plain clothes men on the streets and they are watching them. If I have plain clothes men on the streets and they are watching them.

Stop Recognizing the Evil. "But you say this evil can't be stopped. That may be true, but we can stop recognizing it and commercializing it and thereby putting our stamp of approval upon it. The officers of the law are not to be blamed for conditions that have existed in our cities so long. If a man does his duty as a good citizen he is not going to stand by and let the crime without protesting against it, and the officer has more respect for the citizen that makes him for doing wrong than he would have had for doing right. I have been in the city for a long time and I have seen the law violated because we knew some higher up wanted us to do it that way. We thought that the law depended on doing their bidding. We were moral cowards. When laws are disregarded by officers and courts, it is strange that so many people have no respect for the law.

The purpose of government is to protect society, and it is not better to prevent crime than to punish it. The moment that a step forward is demanded, the weak spots in men will show up. The result of the system of social evil that has been in vogue in our cities for long tends to produce crime and debauchery among the poor, and the enforcement of the law tends to produce crime and debauchery among the rich. The amount of crime is not around these officers of debauchery. The amount of crime is not around these officers of debauchery. The amount of crime is not around these officers of debauchery.

THE WAGES OF SIN. The wages of sin is still death. Many lawless cities have already

GAINESVILLE POSSE SEARCHES FOR NEGRO

Excitement Runs High for Few Hours—Citizens Shoot at Burglar.

Gainesville, Ga., June 6.—(Special.) A negro burglar came near causing a riot in South Gainesville last night about 11 o'clock, when he fled into the home of C. M. Holland, proprietor of the Holland stable, here. The negro was discovered by neighbors while trying to enter the house. Holland and other neighbors, who joined in a chase after the negro in a short time a posse of nearly a hundred citizens had collected and were scouring the town for any suspicious negro they might find.

The posse was headed by a prominent citizen of Gainesville, and the negroes in that immediate vicinity were ordered to leave before 1 o'clock this afternoon, and early this morning seemed to have before a riot.

Some of the negroes were seen running over in the eastern section of Gainesville, where the lawless element of the negroes have been arrested, but no further action was taken.

SENATE IS BANKING ON TRUST SCHEME

Strong Disposition to Pass Trade Commission Bill and Adjourn—Situation Seems to Be Complicated.

Washington, June 6.—Preparations today were made in the senate to take up anti-trust legislation as soon as the Panama tolls exemption report bill is voted of next week.

The interstate commerce committee disposed to report out for the present a bill creating a federal trade commission, and the three anti-trust bills passed yesterday by the house were received by the senate and sent to committees for consideration. They probably will rest for several days.

Chairman Brandegee of the interstate commerce committee, said today he would report the trade commission bill to the senate early next week and attempt to have it made the unfinished business of the senate.

Senate Wants to Quit.

There is a strong sentiment in the senate to pass merely the trade commission bill and adjourn, the belief being that such legislation is the only one that will pass. Whether this spirit prevails is a matter for speculation.

Several senators in the commerce committee today are known to have opposed any motion to entertain any part of trust legislation before the senate at this time.

Senator Brandegee, a republican member of the committee, today issued a statement saying he regarded the taking up of questions affecting the further regulation of railroads at this time a grave mistake.

"I do not think," the statement said, "that a work and exasperated congress should be forced to entertain any part of such legislation before the senate at this time."

There is a nation-wide political campaign in the eye of a nation-wide political campaign. I do not think the agitation will tend to restore confidence to the distracted and drooping business of the country.

Situation Complicated.

The situation is further complicated by the three house anti-trust bills, at least one, the Clayton bill, will be claimed by the senate judicial committee. Senator Cummins also is preparing a bill for the national incorporation of railroads, which will conflict with much of the house legislation.

Some administration senators declared the committee's action did not forebode a curtailment of the trust program at this session.

The most optimistic incline to the belief that the senate will be unable to finish debate on anti-trust legislation in less than two weeks, and predict a much longer debate if all the subjects covered by the bills are to be incorporated in legislation receiving separate approval.

Chairman Newslands said there was no record vote on the question of bringing in only the trade commission bill, but said there was a general disposition. He added that the committee later might take up supplemental trust legislation. He issued a statement in which he said:

"The interstate commerce committee has had before it no bill for the creation of a trade commission. It was concluded to embrace in the hearings the supplemental legislation to the anti-trust act suggested by the president in his message. The committee has no objection to the introduction of a bill for the creation of a trade commission, but it is not in a position to report on it at this time."

The committee determined today to segregate the trade commission bill from the supplemental legislation referred to and have authorized me to present an amendment in the nature of a substitute for my original bill, providing for a trade commission.

"The fear that has been expressed that this bill will inaugurate a wholesale legislation of the kind as in the operations of the country is groundless. Power to investigate is given with reference to such corporations as the commission may designate. This power is substantially the same as is now possessed by the bureau of corporations."

"The committee will continue its consideration of supplemental measures, regarding interlocking directorates, holding companies, railway securities, etc., and any action may be taken on the line of amendments to the trade commission bill or of separate legislation."

Hearings Continued.

The commerce committee concluded its hearings today with the testimony of representatives of the United States Chamber of Commerce, who showed that a poll of its membership on a trade commission bill gave 125 votes for it.

Just take your shoes off and then put these whirling, shoe-crushing, burning, corn-festered, union-buried feet of yours in "TIZ" and you will wriggle with joy; then look up at you and almost faint with joy when you feel that "TIZ" has taken another dive in that "TIZ"!

When your feet feel like lumps of lead—all tired out—just try "TIZ" and you'll find it glorious. Your feet will dance with joy; also you will find grand-gone from corns, callouses and bunions.

There's nothing like "TIZ." It's the only remedy that draws out the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause foot tortures. Get a 15 cent box of "TIZ" at any drug or department store. You'll find "TIZ" has a great effect on your feet; how comfortable your shoes will feel when you wear shoes a size smaller if you desire.

E. P. Thom, general counsel for the Southern Railway, argued against the broad power granted to the interstate commerce commission to investigate railway security issues in the so-called railway capitalization bill passed by the house.

Believes It Has Won Substantial Victory in Amendment to Clayton Bill—Expect Meaning of Amendment Disputed.

Washington, June 6.—(Special.)—Labor leaders believe they have achieved a substantial victory in having the house of representatives adopt an amendment to the Clayton bill, which exempts any labor or farmers' organizations from prosecution under the Sherman law.

While the precise meaning of the amendment is still disputed, it has been generally construed not to legalize boycotts, but to exempt any such action prohibited by other laws of the country.

Republicans declared the provision was meaningless. Democrats contended that the amendment was the original draft of the Clayton bill, and the labor leaders, confers no greater exemption than did the original draft.

Approximately 100 members of the house of representatives in some quarters felt the amendment may be too liberal in construction, and any event, it is almost certain to go to the United States courts for a judicial interpretation.

Those who believe that the great toiling masses have the right to band themselves together into organizations to fight more effectively for their just rights point out that in this day of great industrial consolidation the employers are too powerful for the workers to reach an agreement that for 60,000 men to strike would be a disaster to the nation, however, that oppression on the one side is as bad as oppression on the other.

Magna Charta of Labor.

Representative David J. Lewis, of Maryland, who holds a union card and is a spokesman on the floor for organized labor, referred to the amendment to the Clayton bill as the "magna charta of labor." He said that the bill placed organized labor in the same position as the British parliament in 1215 placed the British people in the same position as the British people in 1215.

Discussing that measure, Mr. Lewis said: "I know there is some misapprehension among the people as to the meaning of this section. It means that the error of considering labor as a commodity is corrected. It means that the error of considering labor as a commodity is corrected. It means that the error of considering labor as a commodity is corrected."

Louisville Minister Is Giving Careful Consideration to Call to Atlanta Church.

Rev. J. S. Lyons, D. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Louisville, Ky., who has been called by the Louisville Board of Christian Education to preach at the First Presbyterian church of Atlanta, is giving careful consideration to the call.

Mr. Lyons says that the call to the Atlanta church is a very attractive one, and that on account of the congregation to have him as its pastor, he is giving it very active consideration.

He declared that the Louisville church had been a member of the Louisville board of Christian Education for twenty-two years, and that the church and community were very much interested in the call.

The people of Louisville have paid the Louisville board of Christian Education, which is a very attractive one, and that on account of the congregation to have him as its pastor, he is giving it very active consideration.

How to Win.

(Maurice Swinton, in Leslie's.)

This is an age of specialization, my boy, and it is the man who succeeds in a big way are those who pick out one particular line of work, and stick to it until they get to know more about it than anyone else.

Concentration, consistent and persistent effort in one direction is the surest road to success. You'll never win in a big way except by concentrating all your energies.

If you scatter your energies, the best steam-engine in the world would race itself to ruin without its governor. Keep your mind on your job, specialize in your particular business and try to know as much about it as the man who created it, and, barring misfortune, you'll make more money than you can spend outside of your business.

or farmers' organizations can do an act in itself which is a victory for the farmer. It is a victory for the farmer. It is a victory for the farmer.

Strange to say, in the debates in the senate, when farmer or labor organizations were mentioned as being exempted to the Sherman anti-trust law, the framers of this great measure said that it was not their intention to exempt such organizations. It is simply plain, unadorned justice to those that have heretofore been dealt with unjustly.

These men are only exercising their personal rights—those given rights of property rights. England under a more liberal law relative to labor organizations, would have no capital investment in the Sherman bill upon which we have acted.

To say that the farmer's union of Georgia could be prosecuted for an illegal combination in restraint of trade if they, as such, were to agree to buy no guano for the year 1914 because they deemed it expedient in price, is absurd. Peruna Did It For Me.

"I find Peruna an excellent spring and summer medicine and am glad to call the attention of my friends to it. I know by experience that Peruna is a good medicine, and always recommend it whenever I have an opportunity. I can truthfully say that I have no trace of my old complaint, and have neither ache nor pain, and enjoy life. Words cannot express my appreciation for the good Peruna has done me."

PERUNA THE SPRING AND SUMMER MEDICINE.

"I used to get cramps in my stomach, had sick headaches. My stomach nearly killed me. My family physician only gave me temporary relief. I got out of patience and had given up hope of recovery. I then wrote to Dr. Hartman and he advised me to take Peruna. I got a bottle of Peruna and commenced using it. Soon got better and am now entirely cured and feel like a new woman. Peruna is my comfort. I will never be without it." Mrs. Thomas M. Morgan, R. F. D. 2, Wadsworth, Ohio.

Atlanta Ad Men's Club Would Father Bill to Prohibit the Use of Misleading Ads.

The Ad Men's club of Atlanta will have introduced before the next session of the Georgia legislature a bill to prohibit untrue and misleading advertisements. Representative John T. Smith, of Pulask county, will father the bill, and ad men propose to get right in behind the legislators and see to it that their proposed bill becomes a law.

Work to get this bill before the legislature was begun in 1911 and since that time the ad men have been busy upon it. The committee now active in this matter, which is known as the legislative committee, is composed of William P. Parham, publicity agent for the Georgia Chamber of Commerce, chairman; Ben Lee Crew, vice president; Phillips & Crew Piano company; B. J. Paly, advertising manager of Chamberlain-Johnson-Dallis company; I. H. Cassett, advertising manager of M. R. & Bros., and Howard Gelder, secretary of the Ad Men's club and a prominent insurance agent.

Following is a copy of the resolutions adopted by the committee and also a copy of the proposed bill:

"Resolved, that the Ad Men's club of Atlanta, in regular session assembled, that it is the sense of this organization that it is its next regular session be introduced and passed the bill we present herewith, for the Georgia legislature, and be it enacted, that any person, firm, corporation or association, who, in circular, newspaper or any other publication, publishes or disseminates any statement or assertion of fact, the quality, the quantity, the value, the method of production or of sale, or the motive or purpose of the sale, intended to give the appearance of offer advantageous to the purchaser, which is untrue or calculated to mislead, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor."

"Sec. 2. Any person, firm, corporation or association, or any employee or agent, who violates any of the provisions of this act shall, upon conviction, be punished as provided for in section 106 of the criminal code of the state of Georgia of 1910."

BIG MIX-UP RESULTS WHEN OFFICERS RAID ALLEGED DOPE DEN

New York, June 6.—A detective seriously wounded by a policeman who did not recognize him as a detective, a woman hit by a stray bullet from the same policeman's revolver, an investigator from the district attorney's office stabbed with a knife and an alleged seller of cocaine shot through the nose—these casualties attended a raid made on a house in West Houston street to suppress traffic in cocaine.

Ernest F. Seyler, the detective, and Harry C. Gibson, the county investigator, entered the house and arrested James Reggino for selling the drug. Reggino stabbed Gibson in the arm. Seyler shot Reggino through the nose, then chased him through a window. Dennis H. Mitchell, a patrolman, rushed in from the street, and, under the impression that a murder was being committed, opened fire. Seyler fell with a bullet wound that may prove fatal. Mitchell took up the pursuit of Reggino on the street, but fell and dropped his revolver. The weapon was discharged and a bullet struck Mrs. Lillian Cudaby in the leg. Mitchell caught Reggino and brought him to the police station before he learned the truth of the situation.

Dobbs Tells of Wonderful Work of Advertising Clubs

By Samuel C. Dobbs.

Mr. Dobbs, while en route to New York, and propped up in the Pullman car on pillows as the result of a bad fall in Atlanta several days ago, has written for The Constitution Ad Men's edition the following interesting article, and announces that he will join the Atlanta delegation in Toronto:

"Education is the fundamental principle of progress."

"Men develop and civilization makes progress through education."

"Men travel to obtain broader viewpoints on things material and otherwise."

"No line of endeavor has developed more rapidly during the past decade under the influence of broad educational methods than that of advertising."

"Under this new order of things the annual convention of advertising men has evolved from that of a frolic, which was well enough in its way, to that of a magnificent educational institute attracting a world-wide attention."

"During the week of June 20 there will foregather in Toronto some ten thousand men, who come in the spirit of good fellowship, and who love both their play and their work. These men come from every section of the globe. Britain will be represented by a large and influential delegation. Every European country will be represented by strong, able men in the profession of advertising. Why? Because at Toronto they expect to get and give. They have caught this new spirit of advertising."

"During that week one hundred and fifty-four addresses and papers will be heard, covering every form and phase of advertising, and all by men who are leaders in their special line of work. Almost an entire college year crowded into one week, and so arranged that anyone may select just what subject they wish to hear discussed. Some busy week!"

"Don't let it all. Men who work hard, play hard, and then just enough play injected into the program to insure every one having a good time from the standpoint of recreation. So the convention at once becomes an educational institute as well as a vacation period."

"Toronto is most beautifully located on the shores of Lake Ontario, and lends itself admirably to all sorts of water sports. There will be boat races, canoe races, water illumination, etc. Tuesday afternoon and evening will be given over to a water carnival. The Toronto club has engaged specially for this occasion the world's champion canoeist—Bruce Ridgway."

"In no country in the world is the military spirit more pronounced than in Canada. On Wednesday evening there will be given the "military tattoo." A carnival in honor of the 100 years of peace between the United States and Canada. This program will depict every phase of camp life, together with a ceremonial drill by the Fort-eighth Highlanders. Then the massed bands, with something like 400 pieces, will play the national airs, introducing a patriotic display of fireworks. The week is filled to overflowing with a feast of good things, intellectual and physical."

Go to Toronto! See Niagara—ride on those wonderful inland seas, the great lakes. Broaden your perspective. You will come back a bigger man or woman, with new ideas and ideals, proud not only of the fact that you are a Georgian, an American, but an advertising man."

Charleston, S. C., June 6.—G. Pope Irby, son of former United States Senator John C. Irby, of South Carolina, yesterday shot and killed himself at his home on a farm 18 miles from here, according to the coroner's verdict. The wounds were inflicted with a buckshot. Remarkable Growth Shown By Advertising in South

By St. Elmo Massengale.

I was asked to write something of a history of advertising in this section. I find the task both interesting and difficult. I shall be compelled to write it in general terms, which will not be as good as a detailed account, but I have known personally, every advertiser in the south, his of course, through necessity in my chosen line of work.

I find it hard, however, to write a story of this kind that would be enjoyable to the general reader of a newspaper, because of its somewhat statistical nature and professional viewpoint. However, I do hope that it will interest those who are interested in the advertising business of the south.

In 1891, I went to the "Atlanta Constitution,"—my first introduction to the business world. Col. Evan P. Howell was publisher at that time. Mr. W. A. Hemphill ran the business, and R. A. Hemphill ran the business. The latter is the father-in-law of our good friend, Mr. H. G. Hart, who is now president of the Atlanta Ad Men's Club. Mr. T. J. Kelly was the advertising manager, and Mr. W. A. Campbell was manager of the department in which I received my first experience on the paper.

The training of my father and his brothers was in entirely different lines of business, and although I was opposed and discouraged by my father, and every one whom I consulted about working as an advertiser, I decided to start in this line.

Advertising in itself, was at that time very crude. The S. S. & C. company of Atlanta was the only really large advertiser in the state of Georgia. Mr. A. G. Candler was president of the S. S. & C. company, and was doing some advertising, and a small amount was being done in outdoor advertising. The Coca-Cola company, practically none in other ways.

I went with the "Weekend Christian Advocate" as bookkeeper about the time of the World's Fair in Chicago. I looked after their business, and in the meantime I formed a special agency soliciting advertising for various religious papers, published in cities such as Nashville, St. Louis, New Orleans, Little Rock, Kansas City, St. Paul, and in fact, all of the Methodist papers of the United States.

No newspaper had offices in New York and Chicago and was kept on the road all the time. I made it my business to have there should be an advertising business in the south, so on my way back, I brought with me a list of all my friends and acquaintances of older men in publishing business. I established the Massengale Advertising Agency.

The development of advertising in the south was very slow and very discouraging and was a Herculean task. The rates among the newspapers at that time was almost as numerous as the stars in the sky. The advertising rates were conducted in the most careless manner. I found it necessary to become personally acquainted with every publisher with whom I afterwards expected to do business. It took quite a long time and a great deal of traveling. The distance was so great to important points in the south and the railroad connections at that time through Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, Florida, Virginia, Arkansas, etc., were very bad indeed.

The Coca-Cola company of Atlanta is the largest advertiser in the south and one of the largest anywhere.

Atlanta has been advertised more by this advertiser than probably through any other one method. You can see nowhere without being reminded of Atlanta by a Coca-Cola sign. This company has factories in Atlanta, the home of the company: New York, Baltimore, Md., Dallas, Texas; Los Angeles, Cal.; Chicago, Ill.; Philadelphia, Pa.; Toronto, Canada; Havana, Cuba; and many other branch offices. It also shows the wonderful development in volume as well as in quality of advertising work.

Ad Men Have Made Slogan "ATLANTA ALWAYS AHEAD" Known All Over Country

The Ad Men's club has secured a slogan for Atlanta that is now nationally known, as it has been used by various civic bodies and private organizations when attending conventions in various parts of the United States. Wherever one may go, he will find the slogan "Atlanta Always Ahead."

This slogan was adopted by the Ad Men in the following manner: Just prior to the departure of the delegation from the Ad Men's Club of Atlanta to the Boston convention in August, 1911, a contest was inaugurated by the club, in which the slogan "Atlanta Always Ahead" was adopted. A prize of $10 in gold was the slogan that would best advertise Atlanta. More than 2500 slogans were submitted. The contest was held to make the selection they decided that the slogan "Atlanta Always Ahead" was "Atlanta Always Ahead."

There were 87 of the contestants to suggest this particular slogan. The first, however, was Mr. Edgar Watkins, a prominent attorney, and he received the $10 in gold.

It was interesting to note that these slogans were sent in from all parts of the United States, indicating that Atlanta is known throughout the country, and the slogan, "Atlanta Always Ahead," is being used by all sections show that Atlanta is regarded as a live and progressive city.

There was more in the contest than the winning of the $10, and it gave Atlanta some splendid advertising. The slogan, "Atlanta Always Ahead," has been adopted by the city and is used on many occasions in advertising Atlanta. The Ad Men's club will have these three words emblazoned upon all of their banners and literature, and the advertising men from all parts of the country will again be reminded that Atlanta is always ahead when the convention opens in Toronto on June 21.

This brings them to this period weighing around 100 to 125 pounds. The farmer who has a few pigs to fatten, should be able to accomplish at much greater profit than the average farmer.

National Advertising Man Tells Why Atlanta Should Have Big Crowd at Toronto

By Lewellyn E. Pratt.

Lewellyn E. Pratt, of New York, is well known to many of the Atlanta advertising men, and is a power in the advertising world of New York city. He is a typical example of how the work of the Associated Ad clubs develops a man and brings out his latent powers. THREE SMART COSTUMES for the WELL- DRESSED GIRL

CHARMING and most girlish is the shell pink tulle gown to the left, with bouffant ruffles of tulle in a deeper shade. Tulle also trims the corsage and forms ruffles on the sleeves. Silver lace fills in the V of the corsage. The girlish is of velvet in a charming old blue shade. The corsage bouquet of the roses and forget-me-nots carries out the color scheme of this most effective gown. The suit in the middle can be made of either a heavy crepe silk or of some of the new crepe cotton materials. This would be an excellent way to make the suit for that cool day in summer. Embroidery trims the cuffs, which are of an unusual shape and cleverly shaped is the bolero jacket, buttoned as it is to the girlish of the same material. Most graceful is the draping of the tunic, which is quite long on one side and very smart is the modish little hat worn with this costume. Blue gray moire faille forms this attractive alkan costume for afternoon wear. Very cleverly managed is the draping of the skirt. Notice the ornament at the side which holds the draping in place. Cream colored embroidered basiste forms the collar and cuffs. Clipped ostrich feathers trim the smart and becoming little hat, which completes this costume.

HARD TIMES ARE AHEAD FOR THE MOTORDROME

Jack Prince Declares That He Is Through With Motorcycle Racing.

Different events in the past few weeks have cast their shadows before them, and this shadow is the shadow of death to motordromes and motordrome racing all over the country. Everybody in Atlanta, of course, is familiar with the final finish of the local track. Last week, in Cleveland, at the opening of their track there, one rider was killed and several others badly injured, and the local police authorities closed down on the motordrome and will prohibit any further racing on motordrome tracks in Ohio. In Milwaukee the opening meet was scheduled for May 28, but it is doubtful if it will take place, as several riders, while practicing there, last week, were quite severely injured, and as this track was already in bad standing with the local authorities, the chances are that this track, too, will very shortly be closed. In New York state, during the last ten days, three or four prominent riders were crippled for life while racing on these tracks.

While Jack Prince was passing through Atlanta several weeks ago he made the statement here that he was through with motorcycle racing, and from now on would never be connected with them. It is possible that Prince, being haunted by the faces of the number of riders who have been killed on tracks that he has built, has caused him to make this decision. The general public are refusing to patronize these tracks everywhere, while in some of the larger cities they are still in operation, but the attendance falls off so very badly after each meet that it is only a question of time before they will be abandoned. The makers and dealers all over the country will be glad when all this happens, as the majority of them are bitterly opposed to motordrome racing as a sport.

PERRY ADAIR.

The Atlanta youngster snapped in action in Memphis just before his final match with Nelson P. Whitney, who he lost. But the youngster deserves a world of credit for going to the final in his first big tournament. He brought back the only cup that Atlanta was able to capture during the entire tournament. The experience he gained will stand him in good stead in the next tournament he enters.

There are not more than ten real automobile manufacturers in America. Of these ten, Studebaker leads all the rest in manufacturing the largest proportion of parts used in its cars.

In laboratory research, in refining processes, in intensive manufacturing, in costly but economical equipment, Studebaker is first.

In addition, Studebaker spreads these quality producing factors over the largest "Six" volume.

The net result is the greatest automobile value in the world today---the

ECONOMICAL

SIX
$1575

Demonstration Will Sell This SIX Against Any Car of Any Size or Any Price

The Studebaker SIX will prove to you in half an hour its superiority over heavier, costlier cars.

It has a greater proportion of manufactured parts than the best of these heavier cars.

Each essential part is of special formula steel, heat-treated from two to four times to permit the use of light parts—with increased strength.

It will prove that this Studebaker combination of light weight and perfect balance holds the road far better than mere bulk. Once set in a straight line the Studebaker SIX continues in a straight line.

It does not creep or slide toward the ditch from the crown of a country road.

This roadability begins in the motor itself—one of the smoothest-running, most perfectly balanced "Six" motors in the world.

When the motor is developing its greatest power vibration is practically imperceptible.

At a speed of thirty or forty miles an hour you will probably guess that you are going twenty or twenty-five.

Your tire cost, gasoline cost and oil cost, are, of course, very much lower than they would be in a heavier car—even a "Four" of equal power.

Studebaker Demonstration Shows Even More Striking Superiority Against The Assembled "Six"

No assembled or semi-manufactured "Six" can stand up in demonstration against the Studebaker SIX.

Studebaker gives you special formula steels tested to 150,000 pounds per square inch.

The best steel the assembler can give you is the best he can get; tested by the mill—perhaps—to 100,000 pounds.

Studebaker doubles and trebles the strength of its own special formula steels by two to four heat treatments.

The assembler must pass the steel on to you exactly as he gets it.

Studebaker by this process produces parts two to three times as strong, and still holds down the weight.

To equal this strength the assembler would have to add weight which would be prohibitive.

So the factor of safety in the Studebaker SIX is bound to be immeasurably greater than in the best assembled "Six."

And the same elements work out in the Studebaker SIX to produce perfect balance.

As a result of this balance it rides better, makes better use of its power, is a better hill-climber, is easier on tires.

In short, the value, long life and roadability of a "Six" are in proportion to the number of manufactured and closely measured parts.

In that respect, as we said above, the Studebaker SIX leads the world.

That is why it is competing with the costliest "Sixes" and outselling them.

That is why assembled "Sixes" MUST COME DOWN in price; and CANNOT COME UP to the Studebaker in manufactured quality.

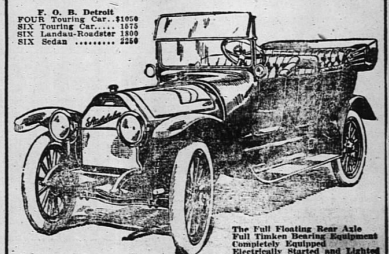

The Studebaker FOUR is of the same grade and quality of material and workmanship, and is manufactured with the same scrupulous care and closeness, as the Studebaker SIX.

Studebaker branches and dealers have, in stock, $1,000,000 worth of service parts. This means service to owners of a sort that assemblers do not and cannot give. In this respect we believe the Studebaker organization to be unequalled. In addition to its $3,000,000 machinery equipment for car manufacture, Studebaker maintains a special plant for the manufacture of service parts to keep all branch and dealer stocks complete at all times.

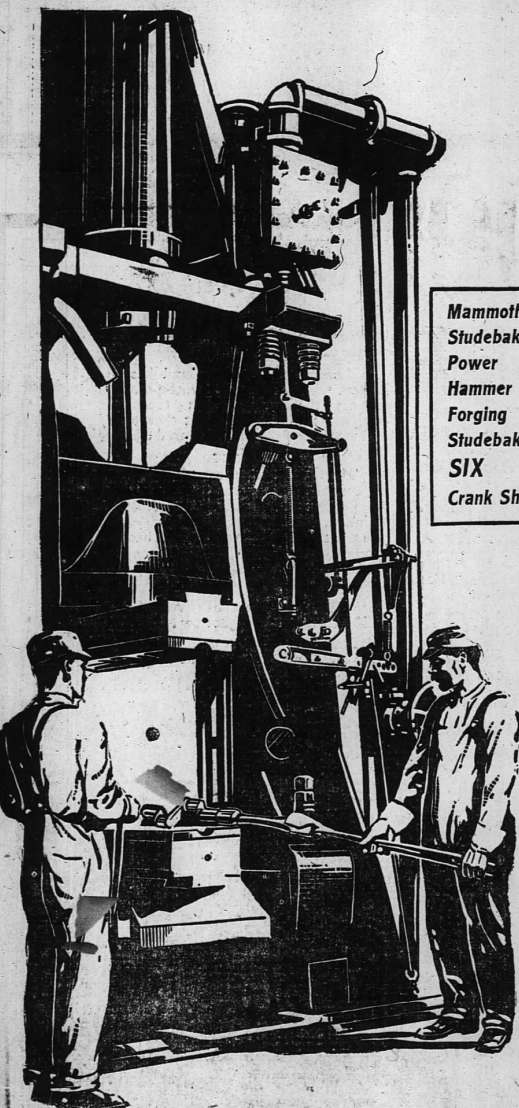

The Studebaker Proof Book describes and pictures the scientific manufacturing operations of Studebaker. Send for it.

STANDARDIZED COLE NOW IN A NEW HOME

Cole Motor Car Co. Opens
Most Modern and Up-to-Date Plant.

Great advancement has been made in factory construction in the past few years and one of the most modern, up-to-date plants in the country was officially opened in Indianapolis Sunday week when President J. C. Cole of the Cole Motor Car company, received the keys to the mammoth building structure on East Washington street, the home of the Standardized Cole.

The building, which has been under construction almost a year, has been steadily added to the Cole people, who have steadily added to the unique position in the automobile manufacturing world. While only $125,000 section has been constructed to dovetail into another building on Davidson street, still the two buildings are a masterpiece of engineering to increase factory production without increasing quality.

With the new plant not only will production for Cole take a big step, but the comforts of the already satisfied working force will be increased. In the new plant, with every possible facility provided for the wants of the employees, with pleasant surroundings, with the latest in machinery, Cole's manufacturing efficiency is increased. The new plant is situated on a lot of floor space, approximately six acres of ground, and is a masterpiece of engineering. The last new addition is 100 feet wide on the East Washington street front, 276 feet long on East Washington to Market street, and 122 feet wide on East Washington street. The contract for the building, which is of modern concrete construction, was in the hands of the Bedford House and Construction company, of Chicago, and the architect, Herbert L. Bass & Co., architects.

Having 112 feet of clear height, the embankment of the building is one of the largest in the city. It is 44 inches in diameter, and is designed to carry away gases from boilers totaling 400 horsepower.

There are 15,511 square feet of prism glass in the fenestrae, exclusive of the office. Placed and to end, this would reach 4 1/2 miles, Richmond says. Over 500 tons of steel was used in the construction of the plant, and 15,000 tons of concrete. This gives the building a displacement of 15,000 tons, or nearly 5,000 more displacement than the battleship Indiana, which has a displacement of 13,250 tons. If the columns in the building were placed end to end and they would reach 4,476 feet high, or nearly a mile in the air. Nine hundred and eighty-three incandescent lamps are used to light the building, in connection with the factory illumination scheme, wonderful strides have been made in this direction so that it will be possible at any time for Cole to run his factory twenty-four hours a day without service being impaired, insofar as light is concerned. Fourteen reflectors are equally spaced so that no shadow will be cast, making ideal working conditions.

The floors throughout are of concrete. The latest type of construction is used in the employees' lockers and restrooms, modern plumbing, steel toe shoes, lockers, and a variety of workmen's coats hanging on a nail any place it happens to be convenient. Fireproof vaults are found throughout the building, as well as spacious storerooms for each department's archives.

In throwing open the new building, President Cole said: "We believe that every Cole owner should make it a point to visit us and inspect our new plant. Also, prospective owners. We want them to see how it is possible for us to build a quality Cole at the price we ask for our product. We believe that if the public was better acquainted with the methods we employ in the construction of the Standardized Cole they would have every confidence in the Indianapolis made car."

"Our factory and our methods will always be open for the public. The more people who come to get acquainted with the methods we employ in the construction of the Standardized Cole, the more confidence in the quality of the public, and by this I mean, I feel sure that we will not only increase our production, but we will be building a good car at the right price."

"I want the public to know the Cole's method of construction and the policies back of it."

DODGE BROTHERS' CAR PROVES VERY POPULAR

Although automobile dealers are known to be receptive to new cars of distinctive quality, the attitude of the trade toward the car which is soon to be marketed by Dodge Bros., Detroit, has probably no parallel in the industry.

It is well known that Dodge Bros. have for years been manufacturers of cars on a mammoth scale, and that their buildings and machinery are among the marvels of motor car manufacturing.

It is also generally known that both of the Dodge brothers are expert engineers, and that their tremendous business has been built up entirely through their own initiative and under their personal supervision.

But that is all—absolutely all—that is known regarding the new car they are to manufacture and sell, and in this the extraordinary response of the trade to the simple announcement that these cars will be made to market a car of moderate price.

Although no details whatever have been given out as to the exact price of the car, or its equipment, or its style, or its equipment, and in spite of the fact that the Dodge brothers have made a definite statement that has been made concerning the merits of the company has been the announcement that Mr. A. J. Fargo is general sales manager. It is reported that there have been more than fifteen hundred applications for exclusive territory. These applications came by letter, telegram, long-distance phone, and in many cases in person.

It is definitely known that, despite the lack of detailed information regarding the exact character of the car, a large number of dealers have actually signed agreements to handle it as soon as it is ready for the market, and it is freely predicted that a major portion of the year's cars will be allotted before the completed car is ready for distribution.

CHINESE WOMAN BUYS
SIX STUDEBAKER CARS

Now the Entire Family Will Be Able to Take Long Spins.

The rapidity with which China is rapidly receding from its century-old habits, and taking on modern clothes, has been often pronounced one of the twentieth century marvels. In no way has this progress been proven more forcibly than in the part Chinese women are taking in affairs, social and political.

No longer is the gentler sex of the Orient a footloose, enslaved, retiring section of humanity, to be kept in subjection and to appear in public only in the most modest of the profane garb of the populace.

A recent acquisition in Shanghai, where a wealthy Chinese mother purchases six Studebaker cars, is the latest and most striking evidence of the emancipation of the Chinese women.

During the past winter, the widow of Soong King Dong, who previous to his death was a prominent member of the Chinese bank at Shanghai and one of the wealthiest citizens of the province, with her family, she would enjoy some of the pleasures pursued by her American sisters. So she purchased six Studebaker cars, is the latest and most striking evidence of the emancipation of the Chinese women.

It happens that the four Soong sons and one daughter, twenty-four hours a day, have a house full of little ones who are just as modern in their desires as the older folk.

the holding of the Shriners' convention in Atlanta is one of the biggest advertisements that Atlanta could have had. The general comment of people was that Atlanta is certainly a wide-awake and progressive city, and that the holding of the Shriners' convention in Atlanta had certainly put her on the map in good, strong style. There was nothing but praises on all sides, scattered by the returning Shriners.

The motorcar business in general throughout the south has been exceedingly large, and all makers are planning to invade the south the coming year, as they look to the south for the future big business in motorcars.

NEW DEVICE EMPLOYED BY GOODRICH COMPANY

A new device in the field of big manufacturing has been brought out by the B. F. Goodrich company at its rubber factories at Akron, Ohio.

This is a new record card for all employees, which also carries a "Safety Bulletin." The pay record card is designed to help the employee keep track of the number of hours he has worked each day, the amount of piecework finished and the daily earnings that result.

In addition, however, the card carries a safety talk, touching on a different topic with each issue, and a new card is "published" each half month.

The safety bulletin idea carries out the policy of the company, which is making "Safety First" a slogan for all employees, as well as the manufacturing principle on which it designs and builds its tires.

One safety bulletin tells how to care for a certain ailment, the next tells what to do to prevent infection of wounds, a succeeding bulletin will give advice on efficiency and possibility of increasing production on piecework, and so on.

This card, in folder form, is almost like a small semi-monthly publication, devoted to the interests of the 15,000 employees of the Goodrich company. It carries the title "Safety, Loyalty and Efficiency" at the top, and is put out by the "Safety" branch of the department of safety and hygiene of the Goodrich company.

It carries the title "Safety, Loyalty and Efficiency" at the top, and is put out by the "Safety" branch of the department of safety and hygiene of the Goodrich company.

signed to help the employee keep track of the number of hours he has worked each day, the amount of piecework finished and the daily earnings that result.

In addition, however, the card carries a safety talk, touching on a different topic with each issue, and a new card is "published" each half month.

The safety bulletin idea carries out the policy of the company, which is making "Safety First" a slogan for all employees, as well as the manufacturing principle on which it designs and builds its tires.

One safety bulletin tells how to care for a certain ailment, the next tells what to do to prevent infection of wounds, a succeeding bulletin will give advice on efficiency and possibility of increasing production on piecework, and so on.

GEO. P. MOORE REAL ESTATE AND RENTING.

10 AUBURN AVE.
ROSWELL ROAD

THE ROAD OF OPPORTUNITY, a thoroughfare leading to Cobb county, Milton county and DeKalb county, leading to Roswell Road and connecting with the proposed Riverside Drive. Frontage on Peachtree and Paces Ferry Road, same distance out, selling for $25.00 to $35.00 per foot. You can buy Roswell Road building sites at $15.00 to $30.00 per foot. There is no question but what Roswell is the prettiest road; the scenery is magnificent all the way to Roswell. We believe anything you buy on the road will make you money, and you will not go to another county, as you do if you buy any distance out on Peachtree.

COUNTRY HOME SITE at the intersection of Roswell, Dunwoody, Powers Ferry and Johnson's Ferry Roads, we have 60 acres with 2,304 feet of road frontage on a natural elevation. Stone Mountain and Kennesaw Mountain in full view. A beautiful building and about 1-4 of the entire tract in fruit. If you will look at it you will agree that it is an ideal place. Price $12,000 on very easy terms.

CAMP SITES adjoining Sandy Springs camp ground on Powers Ferry paved road, we offer four tracts 200x500 at $500.00 each, on terms of $100.00 cash and balance monthly. They are located in clean white section, close to school and church.

NOTHING LIKE THIS in Fulton county, a beautiful elevation overlooking Atlanta. Stone Mountain and Kennesaw Mountain on a high ridge called the Hog Back, covered with magnificent oaks, two orchards bearing. A total of 181-2 acres bounded by three prominent paved thoroughfares; the other side bounded by dirt road, a total frontage of 3,627 feet of which 2,644 is paved; located six miles from Buckhead, at the intersection of Johnson's Ferry, Lawrenceville, Powers Ferry and Roswell Roads. Price $7,500; $1,000 cash, balance yearly for five years. Let's look at it.

12 ACRES, Roswell Road, a corner with 1,254 feet paved road frontage. Good 6-room house (not a shack), large barn and outbuildings, garden plot, bearing fruit trees, the apples and pears in orchard are said to be the finest in North Fulton county; one block of school; one-fourth mile of church; it's a beauty. Price $4,500; $500 cash, balance monthly or yearly.

6 3-4 ACRES, Roswell Road, near intersection Sandy Springs and Johnson's Ferry Road; 504 feet on Roswell paved road. Price $1,200; $250 cash, balance easy.

14 ACRES, 1,799 feet paved frontage, corner Roswell Road and Sandy Springs; adjoins Sandy Springs camp ground in rear. Price $2,750; $500 cash, balance $500 yearly--figure the price per foot.

18 ACRES, 2,672 feet paved frontage, corner Roswell and Johnson's Ferry Roads, a beautiful grove, one-half cleared, used as truck farm. The entire tract is level. Price $7,000; $500 cash, balance easy--figures about $2.50 per front foot.

27 ACRES fronting 1,140 feet on Roswell Road. It has two of the prettiest building sites on it that you will find anywhere. To see it will be to buy it. Spring branch, some bottom land and orchard. Price $4,500; $500 cash, balance yearly for five years.

34 ACRES fronting 2,396 feet on Roswell Road; large branch running through it; a little rough, but cheap. Price $3,000; $500 cash, balance yearly for five years. It cost almost this amount to pave the road in front. Figures less than $1.25 per foot.

44-1-2 ACRES, fronting 1,304 feet on Roswell Road; rough, but some good timber and open land. Price $5,000; $500 cash, balance yearly for five years.

In our opinion, Roswell Road is the logical road for the car line to Roswell, in fact there has been, and is now, a movement on foot to get up the money to build a line to Roswell and make the Georgia Railway company a present of it if they will run the cars. This car line is bound to come, then frontage will sell for $10 to $15 per foot.

OGLETHORPE PARK vs. ANSLEY PARK 1914 vs. 1904

PROSPERITY vs. "CROAKERS"

Oglethorpe Park vs. Ansley Park

OGLETHORPE PARK is as directly in the line of development as Ansley Park was in 1904, and its increase in property values will be just as great.

Ten years from today Oglethorpe Park will have as many handsome homes in it as Ansley Park has today.

The Croakers will tell you differently, but watch my prediction. There are only two classes of citizens in Atlanta. THE ONES WHO LIVE ON THE NORTH SIDE AND THE ONES WHO WANT TO LIVE ON THE NORTH SIDE.

The plat of Oglethorpe Park has been completed. Each lot is carded, showing size and price. Call at my office for new plats.

Visit Oglethorpe Park immediately and you will be surprised at what you find there today. The streets are all graded and the lots are all staked. You can select anything from a three-quarter-acre building lot to a 15-acre chicken farm. Every lot will double in value within five years. You can buy these lots with your salary, or any way you please.

Have your own agent help you select your lot and take his judgment as to future values, if you are not willing to accept mine.

More homes have been built north of Peachtree Creek in the last twelve months than in the ten preceding years.

Peachtree Road will be built up solid to Oglethorpe university within ten years.

Peachtree Road frontage to the DeKalb county line is a good investment today at any price under $75 per front foot and will double up in ten years.

The Peachtree Battlefield will be the handsomest and most popular national park in America within the next ten years.

1914 vs. 1904

In 1904 the city limits north ended at Sixth street. In 1914 Atlanta's population is 225,000--an increase of 253 per cent.

In 1904 Ansley Park was a tangled mass of lots and limited and paid less than $500 in taxes to Fulton county. In 1914 Atlanta's bank clearings were $725,604,192.65--an increase in twenty years of 1,094 per cent.

In 1904 Atlanta's population was 85,000. In 1914 Atlanta's bank clearings were $253,911.13. The Postoffice receipts for 1913 were $11,228,001.24--an increase, 219 per cent.

In 1904 Atlanta's bank clearings were $118,052,303.15. From 1906 to 1913 investments in buildings alone amounted to $48,319,415,880.96.

In 1904 Atlanta had only half a dozen skyscrapers. For the past three years it has averaged over 1,000 new homes per annum.

In 1904 the assessed value of Atlanta real estate was $48,333,000. In 1914 there was not a house in Druid Hills and only one good house on Ponce de Leon avenue between the railroad and the county line.

In 1913 Ansley Park was assessed by the city of Atlanta at $2,852,000, and paid $20,000 in taxes to the city and $20,000 to Fulton county. Its taxable values increased 11,000 per cent in eight years.

In 1913 the city assessment for 1913 was $7,172,329.47. The total city assessment for 1913 was $121,000,000, and in 1914 it will be over $130,000,000--an increase, 179 per cent.

In 1913 the assessment of Atlanta real estate was $121,000,000, and in 1914 it will be over $130,000,000--an increase, 179 per cent.

Every section in the extended city limits has shown the same wonderful development.

The next extension of the city limits will take in Kirkwood, Oakhurst, Decatur, East Point and Buckhead.

Prosperity vs. "Croakers"

Ten years ago the world did not believe the Panama canal would ever be built. Today it is a finished product. Its opening means that the tide of trade will change in the United States, and that the south and her southern ports will enter upon an era of untold prosperity.

Ten years ago the farmers of the south could not get money to properly improve their farms at any price. Today President Wilson has proven himself the greatest real estate agent the world has ever known, and is forcing the water out of the "boasted" listed stocks in the gambling houses of the United States, and is removing the embargo laid on America's greatest producer--the farmer--and allowing him to use his only security as an asset for national bank loans.

The world now realizes that mortgages secured by productive farm lands are the safest and best securities obtainable, and from this day forward they will be the most popular security for all classes of trust funds, because man's mismanagement cannot affect them, and no water has to be squeezed out of them.

Ten years ago there were only a few automobile garages in Atlanta. Today every automobile manufacturer either has a salesroom here, or will soon have one, and will be forced to locate a branch of his factory here to save freight rates.

Only a few years ago all the cotton factories of the country were located in the east. Within a few years they will all be located in the cotton fields for the same reason.

The same reasons that force the automobile and cotton factories to come south will force all the large manufacturing to locate branch factories here.

Ten years ago there was not a good road in Georgia outside the counties in which her largest cities were located, and the average price of Georgia farm lands was $10 to $15 per acre. Today every county in Georgia is planning a system of good roads and farm lands are worth from $25 to $100 per acre, and will double within the next five years.

Ten years ago the average yield of cotton per acre was one-quarter to one-half bale per acre. Today intensive farming produces from one to five bales per acre.

Ten years ago Georgia's average corn crop yield was 15 to 20 bushels per acre. Today boys under 20 years of age are making from 100 to 200 bushels per acre.

Georgia's agricultural crop for 1913 was $458,000,000, and her manufactured products were valued at $300,000,000, making a total production of nearly one billion dollars.

Figure for yourself the thousands of other things that show Atlanta and the south's wonderful growth within the last ten years that guarantees the wonderful future growth of this wonderful section.

TECH HIGH HOLDS

ANNUAL EYE

Over 2,000 Visitors Amazed at Wonderful Work of the Students—The Glee Club Scores Big Hit.

Last Wednesday, Tech high school students and their friends gathered at the Tech High school for the eighth annual Homecoming. The guests of honor. Fully two thousand students and their friends gathered on the occasion had to display and all articles put on exhibit. The school had the opportunity to see what their sons and daughters were doing. The students were amazed at the handsome pictures of their friends. The library tables, dressers, comfortable chairs, and bookshelves were filled with books, writing desks and other articles. The school had a very limited space of the building. The black and white photographs of the students and their friends were displayed in the school. There were screw drivers, too. - Treasurer—Mrs. R. A. Auditor—Mrs. Roger Chairman of Finance—Mrs. Atlanta, 1145 Peachtree street, N. E.
- ## Interest Being Manifested in Membership
- The membership contest inaugurated last January by the Georgia Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teachers Associations is drawing to a close. Great interest has been taken in this contest in different parts of the state and many lots of paid-in members have been turned in to the state treasurer.
- The Greek Letter was in the lead with a list of 17 paid-in members, but this week, Augusta, led by Mrs. Brunswick, stands first, with a membership list of 130 paid-in members. Although this is a larger showing for Brunswick, we believe that there are many more, or larger clubs in other parts of the state, that wish to send in their list before the contest closes on June 1st.
- The requirements for entering this contest have been stated often before, but for fear that few clubs have taken no notice, we will state both the first and second largest prizes.
- The prizes are: First, $10 in gold for the largest list of paid-in members; second, $5 in gold for the second largest list; third, one year's subscription to the Child's Welfare Magazine for the third largest list.
- The requirements are few and easily complied with. Each club shall send in its list of paid-in members, and the list must be sent to the state treasurer, Mrs. Hudgdon, Jacksonville, Fla.
- The fruits of organization and efficiency through our cooperation are to be desired and are to be deep. What one member can do for the mother's organization, together in a club, cannot accomplish. Let the state organization gather by its means for our intense interest in cooperation.
- Our aim is to keep we have accomplished toward it the year in view. A little more effort will make the world a greater throughout the world, the same attitude are to be found. Indeed, the plundering child into three months is a matter of such common occurrence attracting the attention of everyone.

There is a person who understands the value of habit who appreciates the importance of the training of these habits of eating and sleeping. He is a person who is doing a certain thing and doing it over and over again. It is one of our daily life, will appear in the course of the day.

It seems a great waste of time to allow a child to be so much to inculcating certain principles in their children's minds and to allow them to disappear from the scene.

There seems but one solution to the problem. It is the substitution of a new habit for the old one, which are suddenly taken away. The new habit is a habit of eating and sleeping. It must be the mother's habit to eat and sleep. The mother must eat and sleep.

Introducing "The Free" Sewing Machine

The Machine That Does Better Work With Less Effort The Machine That Lasts Longest & Costs the Least

Having examined the merits of the leading Sewing Machines, we find that "THE FREE" stands head and shoulders over all other makes in the essentials that go to make a good Sewing Machine. Exhaustive examination and comparison prove beyond question that "THE FREE" Sewing Machine —Ball bearings make machinery run lighter. For instance, ball bearings on a bicycle—same effect on a sewing machine. With more ball bearings the machine runs lighter. "THE FREE" sewing machine has six ball bearings—no other sewing machine has more than three. Consequently, "THE FREE" runs lighter.

Runs Lighter

Sews Faster

—By reason of exclusive improvements like the toggle link takeup, round bearings, the celebrated Rotocut, etc., "THE FREE" sewing machine sews faster than any other make of machine.

Is More Convenient

—"THE FREE" sewing machine is the easiest machine to operate. It is full of features that work automatically like the rotary spool pin, the automatic shuttle ejector, the automatic head latch, the automatic tension release, the automatic lift, the automatic bobbin winder, the automatic drawer locks and many other special features and improvements that will save you time, labor and annoyance.

Is More Beautiful

—Nothing has been left undone to make "THE FREE" the most beautiful machine in the world. The design is exquisite—the woodwork being a full rounded set of fine proportions, made of the very best quality quarter sawed oak, finished with a high polish. Then, there is the French leg stand done in brown to harmonize with the wood work, and which requires no dusting. The head of the machine is beautifully done in nickel plate, black enamel, also gold and peacock green transfers.

Lasts Longer

—The durability of "THE FREE" machine is amply evidenced by the fact that "THE FREE" sewing machine company guarantee this machine for life, whereby no other sewing machine is guaranteed for more than ten years. Furthermore, "THE FREE" is insured against breakage, fire, water, flood, lightning or any other damaging source for a period of five years.

Has Less Vibration

—"THE FREE" sewing machine, while equipped with a long shuttle, has more rotary parts than any other sewing machine made. This, together with the greater number of ball bearings, the strong French leg stand, the metal cut-out in which the head rests, makes "THE FREE" have less vibration than any other sewing machine.

Makes a More Perfect Stitch

—"THE FREE" is equipped with the only form-motion positive square feed of any of the high-grade machines. Its operation is strong and perfect on all classes of goods. All manufacturers claim the fore-motion square positive feed for their machines, but remember "THE FREE" is the only machine of them all that has a square fore-motion positive feed, which can prove to you. It is this feature that has made "THE FREE" machine famous for perfect sewing qualities on all material.

Is Guaranteed For Life

—While all other sewing machines are guaranteed for five to ten years, "THE FREE" is guaranteed for life. If any defect in workmanship or material shows up in "THE FREE" machine during your lifetime or the lifetime of the machine, new parts will be given free of cost.

Is Insured For Five Years

—This insurance is given with no other sewing machine but "THE FREE." Should your machine at any time within a period of five years be destroyed by fire, water, lightning—should your machine fall off the back of a wagon while you are moving, or should it get broken in any way so that it is useless, a new machine will be given without cost to you. If a needle or a belt breaks; if you should lose a bobbin or an attachment; if anything gets broke or lost in a period of five years, these parts will be replaced for you absolutely without cost. Over 1,000 "THE FREE" sewing machines were given away in 1913, due to the Indiana and Ohio floods, the Mississippi overflow, the Omaha cyclone, etc.

Sold For Less Money

—Despite these many points of superiority over other machines, "THE FREE" is actually sold for less money than any other high-grade machine. You will be more than agreeably surprised at the reasonable price of "THE FREE."

GROGERS' PICNIC
NEXT WEDNESDAY

First of Mid-Week Holidays Begins—Basketball Dinner at Piedmont Park Sports and Prizes.

The mid-week half-holiday for retail grocers and butchers begins on Wednesday.

O. T. Camp, of the Camp Grocery company, president of the Retail Grocers and Butchers' association, will master of ceremonies for the occasion. He has been a hard worker to bring about the half-holiday for Wednesdays and through he and his committee have worked up a fine program of sports and prizes for the afternoon.

To Mayor Woodward has been the task of selecting the best picnic dinner as prepared by the housewives. A 20-pound bucket of Snowdrift is the prize.

For the retail grocer or butcher with the largest family present to White Provision company, W. H. White, Jr., the judge, will give a fine Confession ham.

From 10 to 12 o'clock a street parade carrying the Snowdrift band will parade the streets telling of the picnic which will last from 1 until 2:30, a for which the music will be furnished by the Tin-Ton band. All customers and friends of the merchants are extended a cordial invitation to take their lunch to the park and spend afternoon with them.

The sports will begin at 3 o'clock.

An Atlanta business man attended convention in Philadelphia last year at which he got two ideas. When he returned to Atlanta he immediately put them into practice in his business and now, at the end of a year's time, he shows how they have been worth $10,000 to him in cold cash. Money talks, and a wise man listens.

Edison made himself both rich and famous by understanding one thing well—electricity. The world is full of people who know a little about some things and not much about anything.

of children who come from a home where they are carefully guarded against any kind of contact with the outside world. They may be over 14 years of age, but they could be a task of the greatest difficulty to the teacher. If satisfactorily in class, since they are not used to the classroom, they are known, there are others to whom knowledge might come as a shock. The teacher should be careful of a subject which might benefit one child might harm another. In the second place, the teacher should be aware that the class must tend to break down children's natural modesty and reserve. The teacher should be careful that some such instruction might be given to children over fourteen in the high school. The teacher should be aware that it is suggested that pamphlets deal with the subject should be given to girls leaving the elementary school.
